He would call special attention to his new apparatus for generating Nitrous Oxide Gas Sprague's Patent,—the only generator that makes a pure and odorless gas, and the only one of the kind ever in this city.

Also, he has introduced a new style of Artificial Teeth, which are far superior to any ever before introduced, and which he will insert at reasonable prices.

He continues also his specialty of administering either spray, which is fast taking the place of the old method of inhalation, being entirely safe to the most delicate persons.

Please give him a call as his new rooms.

Chalybeate Spring Water!

BOTTLED FROM

THE SPRING, AT CATAHDIN IRON WORKS, ME.

This water holds in solution a large proportion of IRON, with SULPHUR and a trace of ARSENIC, and, from its combination, is one of the best means of restoring an impoverished blood to a healthy state.

It is peculiarly adapted to relieve debilitated conditions of the urinary organs, and in many cases has completely cured persons who have tried many other medicines without any relief.

It can be taken at any hour of the day—but after meals is preferable—in quantities from one half pint to two pints per day. It blackens the stools and produces other changes that occur in taking iron in any form.

Chalybeate Spring Water!

THE SPRING, AT CATAHDIN IRON WORKS, ME.

This water holds in solution a large proportion of IRON, with SULPHUR and a trace of ARSENIC, and, from its combination, is one of the best means of restoring an impoverished blood to a healthy state.

It is peculiarly adapted to relieve debilitated conditions of the urinary organs, and in many cases has completely cured persons who have tried many other medicines without any relief.

It can be taken at any hour of the day—but after meals is preferable—in quantities from one half pint to two pints per day. It blackens the stools and produces other changes that occur in taking iron in any form.

TUESDAY, JAN 3, 1871.

MR SUMNER AND THE PRESIDENT

The country has read with real pain the Summer controversy, and there is earnest hope that it may be adjusted peacefully and harmoniously

That Mr Sumner should be brought into a hostile attitude towards the administration is unfortunate but the country cannot afford to forget says the Baltimore American, what it owes to his unfaltering constancy and great ability He was one of the small band of true men who steadily resisted the corruptions and false teachings of the conspirators who meant to destroy the Republic, a scholar, a student, an orator, he was thoroughly hated, and suffered much at the hands of his arrogant enemies

After years of minority struggles he and his friends came to the front, and found themselves charged with the responsibility of the government. It may be that, having succeeded the infamous purposes of rebellion to the deepest depths they were less disposed to accept the first apparent submission of men they could not trust It may be that they have been chided at seeing a forgiving country and confiding administration exalting recent recruits above the men who bore the storm and fought the battle of free principles in their darkest days !

It is not unusual for men who are irresistible in authority and unconquerable when battling the opposition, to fail when they must speak for the government as representative of its administration There was Ben Wade brave dashing powerful in a minority sinking suddenly out of sight when in majority Mr Sumner spent years of Senatorial labor watching the errors and exposing the mistakes and denouncing the wrongs of administration He became unconsciously superior No wonder that in the more difficult and laborious work of the majority, he seemed to be Ajax the less, instead of Ajax the greater No wonder that he sometimes relapsed into the older method of attack

The President had spent his days in camp, and came into power trusted by the millions, but with hesitating trust from men whose tastes were severely civic, and whose instincts those of the politician The man who chose such subordinates as Sherman, Thomas and Sheridan might be pardoned if he mischose some for Diplomatic or Cabinet service He ought not to be criticised if at times the General ranked the President, and brave men who had smelt villainous saltpetre for four years should not be harshly censured if in the new role of civil duty they sometimes relapsed into the language learned in the Wilderness or before Vicksburg

The Senator, remembering Alaska should echo this resentment against foreign acquisition while the President may wisely remember that the judgment of the people can not be too cautiously respected in the same regard - With the appointment of a Commission all parties should be content. Let them be honest and competent gentlemen, and the facts they shall present will probably determine the issue at last

If somebody should say that the Bangor Whig talks in a leading editorial of dominating its social publications of eulogies on Lee and also of the substitution of military satraps for life in place of the existing State governments and in the same article presents the theory that Congress may, by evasion and indirect means do what the Constitution does not directly authorize it to do, it does not require a person should then proceed to denounce the Whig for its rebellious sympathies its hostility to liberty and lack of common honesty and if finally, and after receiving a civil suggestion that the quotations above cannot be fairly considered apart from the context our captious critic should reply angrily That are the very words quoted in Monday's Whig and I don't want anybody's help to construe them'—he would treat the Whig's editorial precisely as the Whig treats Attorney General Reed's argument in the Howell case The Whig calls this process criticism —[Portland Advertiser

We do not know what the Advertiser calls the above statement, and courtesy prevents the blunt expression of our own views but we think that Mr Greeley might further push a prompt and appropriate definition To draw a parallel between an attempt to make a newspaper responsible for garbled fragments of sentences which it quoted only to condemn an[d] criticism of distinct expressions of personal opinion, is hardly creditable as an argument and evinces unusual weakness on the part of our contemporary

The Advertiser seems to ignore the fact that there can be expressions complete in themselves and that those quoted by us were precisely of that character If in the course of a three column article we should declare that—

The Advertiser is incapable of stating the position of an opponent fairly,

we think the expression would need no interpretation from the context to assist in construing it The language criticised by us was emphatic and unequivocal conveying a plain statement of personal views it was quoted correctly from the report, and has never been repudiated We disapproved the sentiments at the time, and the Advertiser has said nothing to change our opinion The speaker either did or did not use the expressions published, and if he used them he either did or did not mean what he said In the absence of any contradiction, we assumed that they were uttered, and that the speaker was not ignorant of what he was saying If this be misrepresentation we do no understand the term

Our language was guarded We neither affirmed nor denied the legitimacy of the salt tariff Whether it is legitimate or not depends upon the fact, whether the duty imposed gives the Treasury the largest amount of revenue with the least possible burden to the people We believe the present tariff on salt is 18 cents a bushel Now if this tariff gives to the Government a larger revenue than a less sum would give, it may be legitimate But on the other hand, if it is so heavy as to prevent the importation of salt, and to defeat the revenue, it is illegitimate" [Democrat

If the Democrat makes war on the tariff it should find out its own opinions It does not know whether the salt tariff is legitimate or not, but answers with an if Now his if is just the point at issue If the salt tariff produces the greatest revenue with the least burden the Democrat holds it "Constitutional if otherwise, illegitimate. It either does or does not, fill these requirements and, therefore is, or is, not Constitutional It strikes us that a decision on this point is important and as Congress must not decide and the Democrat don't know, we must beg our neighbor to inform us who is to settle the question.

The Legislature meets on Wednesday — The caucuses for nominating officers of the House and Senate will be held on Tuesday evening, and those for nomination of State officers on Wednesday evening It is intimated that the present incumbents will all be renominated. The Republican caucus for nominating an United States Senator will be held on Thursday and the election will take place under the law of Congress on Wednesday, 11th inst.

The shortest regular session of the Maine Legislature was the first one, in 1820, which was 29 days in length; and the longest session was in 1850, 114 days in length. An average session is one of about ten weeks duration.

THE FAILURE OF THE AMES PLOW CO-We copy the following statements from the Boston Traveller

"The failure of the Ames Plow Company has caused more excitement in financial circles in this city than any failure since the crisis of 1857 There are several firms involved in this failure—the Ames Plow Company Oliver Ames & Sons, and Oakes Ames individually The firm of Oliver Ames & Son of Easton, the well known manufacturers of shovels, consists of Oakes Ames, Oliver, Frederick, Oakes Angier Ames, and Oliver Ames 2d The Ames Plow Company, which has a warehouse over Quincy market and extensive works at Worcester and Groton Junction grew out of the failure of Ruggles, Nourse & Mason, and of Sampson & Tappan some years since The Ames Sons being the largest creditors, assumed the affairs and business of the bankrupt firm, and it has been known since as the Ames Plow Company, probably doing a more extensive business in agricultural implements than any firm in the world When the Union Pacific Railroad enterprise was started, Mr Oakes Ames took a leading part and loaned his credit freely Other enterprises followed, to which Mr. Ames loaned his credit with equal liberality Mr Oakes Ames connection with the firm of Treadwell & Co. of San Francisco (the firm being Treadwell, Robertson & Carter, names well known in Boston), was well known, the suspension of that firm recently hastened the crisis The firm of Oliver Ames & Sons had no direct connection with the operations of Mr Oakes Ames By consent his name used the names of the Ames Plow Company, and Oliver Ames & Sons as endorsers on all individual paper The principal creditors are of the opinion that, with the ample resources and the large annual income of the Ames Plow Company and Oliver Ames & Sons if the liquidation is placed in their hands instead of being thrown into the hands of assignees, that the entire indebtedness can be paid within eighteen months Mr Oakes Ames has been carrying for the past two years two millions of Union Pacific, and has almost entirely sustained its credit, but the want of confidence in its management and the consequent depreciation of its securities in the market, was too much for him Much will probably depend upon the resumption of Treadwell & Co We have the statement of a prominent bank president and merchant to the effect that the firm can show a surplus of over a million dollars after all liabilities are paid"

The Lostor Journal is informed by a gentleman who has a high reputation as a financier, that after a careful examination of the assets of Hon Oakes Ames he is assured that the assets of Mr Ames are of such a nature that, after allowing for the largest possible depreciation, he will be able not only to pay every dollar of his indebtedness, but to have then a larger sum left than he owes — There is no doubt that in a few months Mr Ames will be able to sustain himself and come out of this trial with a large fortune

THE HOME INSURANCE COMPANY The Committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Home Insurance Company of New Haven, reported at an adjourned meeting on Saturday morning, that there was but one way to save the Company, viz By reducing the capital stock to $10,000 and subsequently issuing a new capital of at least $300,000, and by filling the deficiency in assets by raising an additional sum of $150,000 to keep the re-insurance fund intact. The assets of the company are sufficient to pay the present liabilities, except the re insurance fund The suggestions of the Committee were adopted and the old stock was reduced $10,000 One hundred thousand dollars has been donated towards filling the deficiency in the reinsurance fund $100,000 is ascribed to the new capital, and a Committee appointed to solicit subscriptions for the amount remaining The meeting adjourned until Tuesday, 3d inst. Our dispatch states that a determined effort is making to put the company on a sound business basis with a fair prospect of accomplishing it. If the effort is successful the company will resume business within a week

THE LATE GENERAL PRIM General Juan Prim the Count de Reus and President of the council of ministers in the existing provisional government of Spain is dead from the wounds of an assassin He was shot while riding in his carriage last Wednesday and it was at first thought but slightly injured He was but 50 years old 18 years ago, the Queen Christina, suspecting him of treachery, stripped him of his titles and rank of general He joined the Turkish army and won honors on the Danube but soon returned to Spain and greatly distinguished himself in the war against Morocco The attempted assassination of General O'Donnel was generally attributed to Prim who entertained great jealousy of him In January, 1866, he headed an insurgential military insurrection at Aranjuez and in his defeat fled to Portugal whence he returned to take part in the movement in September 1868 which resulted in the overthrow of the Queen, and the establishment of a Provisional government of which Serrano has been the nominal head but Prim the master spirit A few weeks ago he only escaped a duel with Topete, the third of the Triumvirate by the interference of his friends His betrayal of the liberal principles on which the revolution was started and success in inducing the Cortes to place a new king of his own choice, over the country, awakened a feeling which has cost him his life

THE TREASURY EXHIBIT The following is the exhibit of the balance in the Treasury for the year just closed, as compared with last year

Currency in 1869,	$7,858,409
" 1870,	26,247,515
Gold in 1869,	70,000,000

Total for 1870,	108,247,515

The following dispatch was sent from San Francisco on Friday, to Minister Gambetta

"As a New Year's gift to France the Frenchmen of California send 100,000 francs for the national defence. Vive la France! Vive la Republique! From the Central Committee of California."

M Touchard received an enthusiastic reply from Gambetta.

THE GLOUCESTER FISHERIES The Cape Ann Advertiser Friday published a summary of the losses of Gloucester fishermen and fishing vessels for the present year, from which it appears there have been 19 vessels and 97 lives lost the present year, against 16 vessels and 67 lives last season The aggregate tonnage of the vessels lost this year is 1314, their value, $79,700; insurance, $68,470 Four of these vessels were lost in the Georges fishery; two in the Bank, and two in the Bay of St. Lawrence mackerel fishery, one in the shore mackerel fishery, two in the coasting trade, and two in the herring fishery. Of the 97 men lost, 26 were married, leaving 26 widows and 45 fatherless children

The conduct of a Rev Mr Sabine, of New York, in refusing to preach the funeral sermon of the veteran actor, George Holland, is universally condemned, and he is placed on a par with the Boston clergyman who poured out his furious invective against the dead author, Charles Dickens Jefferson, the actor, it seems, approached this Mr Sabine with the request that he officiate at the funeral, but was haughtily refused, and Mr Jefferson was referred to the minister who preached in "the little church around the corner," and who he said, would undoubtedly preach the funeral sermon, to which Jefferson replied, "God bless the little church around the corner"

The Dramatic Company of New York have subscribed $100 to purchase a copy of the Bible illustrated by Dore to present to Rev. Dr. Houghton, pastor of the "little church."

Seventy buildings in the centre of the town of Milton, Pa., including dwellings, stores and stables, were burned Saturday night, causing a loss which is estimated at from $150,000 to $200,000.

Monday was observed as a general holiday by all branches of business in New York.

DR SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER.

Having for the last thirty five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably tuberous condition of lungs to healthy soundness The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose in winter is Florida well down in the State, where the temperature is regular and not subject to such variations as in more northern latitudes Jacksonville is a point I recommend A good hotel is kept there by Peterman, last winter I have several patients there whose lungs are badly diseased, but who under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well

On this trip, still further down the St Johns River is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing, Melleonville Enterprise, are located there I should give a decided preference to Melleonville it is two miles from river or lake and it seems almost impossible to take cold there Then this place is high be better than palatka comparatively at times, but that is a good sign as it indicates a return of appetite and when this is the case they usually recover in dead, that the lungs must heal

Jacksonville, Hibernia Green Cove and many other places in various parts of Florida can be easily reached by railroad from Melleonville My reasons for writing, so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than when there is a less even temperature, and it is not necessary to say that, where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly therefore my advice is go well down into the State out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat, or not all but few these wishes things are diseased, a more southern point is earnestly recommended

For fifteen years prior to 1869 I was professionally in New York, Boston Baltimore, and Philadelphia every week where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week I practice so embracing every possible phase of lung disease has enabled me to understand the disease fully and hence my caution in regard to taking cold A person may take small quantities of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold in Florida nearly every body at times takes cold and take it this for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than a more northern latitudes. It is a well-established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption espec ally those of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one-third at least of the population die of this terrible disease, in the Middle States, in the north part prevail so largely still there are many thousands of cases there What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were so easily warned in regard to taking fresh colds as they are about scarlet fever small pox &c but they are not, they take what they term a little cold which they are Sedulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for one and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope of cure

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected even slightly, is to lay in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Pills and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines, because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action I know that when they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required This accomplished, the cure will do the rest The physician who prescribes for cold, cough, or night sweats and then allows the patient to walk or ride out every day will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long

My plan is, to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary My object is to give tone to the stomach —to get up a good appetite It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry I have hopes of such With a relish for food and a gratification of that relish, comes good blood and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs —then the cough loosens and abates, the creeping chills and uncanny night sweats no longer disturb and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida The question may be asked is there no hope for such? Certainly there is My advice to such is and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease, if it be taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record, that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Mandrake Pills, and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption Go where you will you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned everybody should keep a supply of them on hand They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its baneful effects behind In fact, they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required If you have partaken too freely of fruit, and diarrhœa ensues a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes, and they will relieve you in two hours, if you would obviate the effects of a change of water; or those from indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrake Pills at night, and you may then drink water, and eat watermelons, pears, apples, plums, peaches, or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them They will assist digestion, and prevent stomach and bowel complaints at this season of the year. They are purely vegetable They can do you only good.

I have established my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to have patients at my office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A M to 3 P M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Laryngoscope will be charged five dollars. The Inspirometer for large the exact condition of the lungs and just what strength they have Whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood, that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken in strict accordance to directions.

In conclusion, I will say, that when persons take my medicines, and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold as not to watch themselves, and not allow a slight cold to settle on the lungs Without a chimney of glass to put it in, the flame of the lamp would be blown out by the slightest breeze, so with a fire in the stove, a free draft is necessary to consume the smoke, and the same with the stove pipe of the human system, there must be a free draft, or ventilation, to carry off the impure air from the lungs, and this can be brought about in almost any room in any house, by a little management, and the exercise of a little ingenuity

Consumptives can be easily benefited by my medicines, and those who will not be benefited by them, are few and far between, and can be brought from any respectable distance to Philadelphia, with but little fatigue, and at small expense

MEZIERES OCCUPIED BY THE GERMANS

London, 2—Mezieres has been occupied by the Germans

The French have evacuated their fortified position on the north east of Paris and the forts around the city remain silent

NAPOLEON AND BAZAINE.

Wilhelmshohe, Dec 29 Judging from the degree of cordiality evinced by Napoleon to wards Marshal Bazaine, on his first reception at Wilhelmshoe, it was anticipated here that that officer would be a frequent visitor at the castle Subsequently such has not been the case however, nor is this lack of feeling or decrease of friendship attributable in any way to the late increase in the number of the family of Marshal Bazaine by the birth of a boy, with attractions of his own very snug quarters in the vicinity of Wilhelmshohe, during the very severe weather The truth is, that there have been only a few visits and these of a very ceremonious character made by the Marshal to the Emperor The confidence which Napoleon evidently accorded to and bestowed on Bazaine at first, after his surrender has been for some cause or other with drawn This change of feeling and respect, on the part of a French soldier, is probably due to the receipt of certain facts which have been communicated to his royal master through the Empress Eugenie respecting the aspirations which are said to be entertained on the part of Bazaine, and the knowledge of which could not fail to displease the Emperor, even to the him on his guard with respect to his constitutional or grave subjects of State with this officer The Marshals conscience is en tirely clear of any cause for such suspicion — The Marshals course has been guided by the strictest probity and loyalty The courts the most complete examination and scrutiny both of his career and conduct.

It is believed probable here that after the capitulation of Paris a decree of Regency covering the legislative chambers will be issued by the victors and the Prussian will be taken on the question of further continuance of the war or the conclusion of peace As an immense majority of the French representatives are in favor of peace, this plan may afford a basis for the completion of an understanding between France and Prussia The greatest difficulty in the way of its realization is anticipated in a few departments of the country in which there is a Republican majority and where it is a very difficult task indeed to uphold the purity of the ballot-box The vituperative utterances of the Independance Belge against Napoleon are attributed at Wilhelmshohe to the inspiration of Gen Count Fleurines, who it is said is under very heavy pecuniary obligations to Napoleon

GAMBETTA'S ADDRESS

Paris, Jan 1—Gambetta in his address yesterday said that the Prefecture had told the Government it was bound to the defence of the country until it was mortal We must not conceal the republic with persons who had been ruined by events to assume power

If Germans were when the invasion had been rejected would resign and submit to the verdict of the nation He hoped that the legislative body would be accorded to the expression of opinion All speech must be as free as thought, but language engendering actions hostile to the government would be repressed with energy

London 2—Weather extremely cold and severe Troops suffer terribly Many Prussian and French soldiers have been frozen to death

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Jan 2

The Executive Mansion and the residences of the Vice President and Cabinet Ministers were all closed to-day

The President with the Vice President drove over to Arlington and spent part of the afternoon in the vicinity of the graves of the soldiers buried there.

The President stated that persons professing to be agents of Mrs. Lee had sought interviews with him to talk about her claim to Arlington, but he refused to have any conversation with them on the subject. It was after these refusals that Senator McCreery introduced his resolution relative to Arlington and the disinterment of the remains of soldiers there, upon which there has been so much comment.

Hundreds of citizens and observers of prominence kept open houses to-day. At but very few were stronger beverages than coffee and chocolate and never before has there been so much regard for temperance.

BUSINESS ITEMS

NEW INVENTIONS—The fertility of the American mind in its conception of the labor saving machines is unequalled Acknowledged to be the most ingenious inventive nation upon the globe, the United States has swelled its Patent Office to a size commensurate to the requirements of the age but in every large city numerous harpies await an opportunity to bury their talons in the flesh of the originator of new inventions drawing largely upon his purse, or sapping the benefits of his brain To avoid such a misfortune, it will be well for those desiring patents to employ only those solicitors who are known to be reliable

In our paper to day will be found the unusual announcement of R H EDDY Esq No 76 State street, Boston, long and favorably known as a most successful solicitor of American and Foreign Patents Aside from his experience and thorough knowledge of every detail of the business, Mr Eddy brings a courtesy and straightforwardness of deal ing that renders business with him a pleasure

LORRAINE—1871

Sweetly the blue time twilight throws
Over the hills of fair Lorraine
See they the willow now boughs fall
Over the wreathed trees and trivied wall.

But never lawned a brighter eve
Than the holy night of St Genevieve

And by or moonlight fairer fell
The banks of the blue Moselle

Rich the silver splendor shines,
Soft and glad with absence the clustered vines

And cream, in bewildering flair
Midnight tresses and golden hair

Golden hair and midnight tress
Mingle again tender lovelin ess

While the evening breezes breathe upon
Marie and Jean—and their hearts are one

The spell of silence lifts at last —
Marie the salutes sweet Joy upast!

Her vesper chimes have died away
Where shall we be on New Year s Day?

With a answering throb heart thrilled to heart
Half fet half in thrilling start

Brimming sighs all shone the blessed thought
Long for a little

Nestled beneath the Hope upon
Wings of blissful bridaltide

Low bowed in tearful silence there
Their artless tresses golden gray

And there the moss like tree fell
Over Jean s of the blue Moselle

And still the ark slight storm upon
Marie and Jean and their hearts were one

Years moons have rolled away
And sunrise sunsets New Year s Day

Gentle Ellie Lorraine
Hears of sad war knows of slain

Where merrily rang the light guitar
Sighs gayety of the restless car

Beautiful maiden gleaming bright
Fair form face fance of beauty

Jewels flash glisten figures
Merry glitter ring sabre tires

Flowers fill room Mell
Ever sweet fair of all

Wealth all forest and fair
Wove two masses of delight hair

Amongst all gleaming fair
Fairest Verdaine elegance well

Was said little cot
Walk turn fifteen olott

Hall her hand ale
Gentle sweet turned to stone

Wall and all gems dumb
All Mystery that her time may come

Dream all Death gaid baleful star
Until with eagle screams afar

While the New Year shadows was
Through the Coal Lorrai

MOTHER BUNCH'S SABLES

BY MRS H C LOWE

[Concluded]

It was the last day of the old year and Miss Calcott who had since her mother s death several years before superintended her father s household drew a deep sigh of satisfaction at sight of the huge loaves of delicately frosted cake the delicious pastry, and dainty confectionery that Mother Bunch s art had prepared for the expected party on New Years eve

What should we do without you Mrs Bunce she said in her most flattering tone

Oh by the way I must not forget to ask you to make the wreath for that largest loaf you know I wish to arrange it so exquisitely

And a with a honest smile of pleasure at the encomium on her taste and skill the aged functionary complied with a affection and delicacy of touch that reminded one of the days when

Her fingers first learned to play
On the keys of the blue Moselle

And the ark slight storm upon
Marie and Jean and their hearts were one

Years moons have rolled away
Until sunrise again on New Years Day

Gentle Ellie Lorraine
Hears of sad war knows of slain

Where merrily rang the light guitar
